Dear Students;

We are pleased to deliver you a warm welcome on the occasion of starting your studies for this specifically nice profession. You are entering now the group of people who have been taking the hard job of mapping of disease causing factors, combating with diseases, helping other people, caring, curing and healing for hundreds of years. The medical challenges of the XXIst century need special bases of information and knowledge, skills as well as attitudes to meet the requirements of behavioral and moral tasks during the job of a physician based upon the Medical Oath.

The subjects described on this sheet help you develop the appropriate medical attitude.

In year 4, students should take a final exam which covers the knowledge, skills and attitudes learned during the eight previous semesters.

Recommended order of schedule for the behavioral science subjects for medical students:

BEHAVIOURAL SCIENCES IN MEDICINE I-III.

I. Introduction to Medicine
(compulsory subject, 2 credits, year 1, fall semester)

II. Medical Anthropology
(compulsory subject, 1 credits, year 2, spring semester)

III. Ethics in Medicine
(compulsory subject, 3 credits, year 3, spring semester)

MEDICAL PSYCHOLOGY AND COMMUNICATION I-III.

I. Introduction to Psychology, Communication
(compulsory subject, 2 credits, year 1, spring semester)

II. Medical Psychology I.
(compulsory subject, 2 credits, year 3, spring semester)

III. Medical Psychology II.
(compulsory subject, 1 credit, year 4, fall semester)

Examination in Behavioral Science comprehensive exam (criteria subject, year 4, fall semester)

Medical Sociology
(compulsory elective subject, 2 credits, year 2, fall semester)

Gerontology
(compulsory elective subject, 2 credits, year 3, spring semester)

Doctor-Patient Communication
skill training (criteria subject, year 4, fall-spring semester)

Diploma work
For topics list see: http://web.med.u-szeged.hu/magtud/home_eng.html

Our subjects are built on each other. ATTENDANCE OF THE COURSES IS STRONGLY RECOMMENDED! It is important to meet the requirements of the course and to complete them to apply for the final exam.

The course is organized by Dept. of Public Health but the grade achieved is calculated into the result of Final Examination in Behavioural Sciences
GUIDELINE TO BEHAVIORAL SCIENCE SUBJECTS for Medical Students

YEAR 2019/2020

Department of Behavioral Sciences
6722 SZEGED Szentáromság u. 5.

We would like to ask for your attention to pay on the credit requirements, namely, the necessity of the appointment of 12 credits to start the final exam. (That 1 credit for subject Medical Psychology II. not belongs to this 12 credits!)

This means, that we strongly recommend that you should take up the following subjects since year 1 as described below.

For more information please visit at:

http://web.med.u-szeged.hu/magtud/home_eng.html