

PUBLIC HEALTH AND PREVENTIVE MEDICINE

4th year pharmacy students

Department of Public Health, Berencsi György lecture room (D1-110-6)

Friday, 11:00–12:30

WEEK	TIME	SUBJECT	LECTURER
1 st	10 September	Introduction. The aim and scope of public health and preventive medicine. Basic knowledge of demography.	Dr. Paulik Edit
2 nd	17 September	Basic knowledge of epidemiology, main types of epidemiological studies. Health status of world population.	Dr. Paulik Edit
3 rd	24 September	Epidemiology of cardiovascular and cerebrovascular diseases, and malignant tumours.	Dr. Paulik Edit
4 th	1 October	Epidemiology of metabolic, gastrointestinal, and chronic respiratory diseases. Epidemiology of accidents and suicide.	Dr. Máté Zsuzsanna
5 th	8 October	General epidemiology of infectious diseases. Prevention, vaccinations.	Dr. Vezér Tünde
6 th	15 October	Epidemiology of infectious diseases: airborne and enteric diseases.	Dr. Máté Zsuzsanna
7 th	22 October	Epidemiology of infectious diseases: hematogenic and lymphogenic diseases, cutaneous and sexually transmitted diseases.	Dr. Papp András
8 th	29 October	Epidemiology of infectious diseases: zoonoses, transmissible spongiform encephalopathies, health care associated infections, infection control (nosocomial surveillance).	Dr. Papp András
9 th	5 November	Environmental health. Health effects of physical, chemical and biological factors of micro- and macro environment. Climate change and health	Dr. Papp András
10 th	12 November	Epidemiology of smoking, alcohol and drug consumption (health risks, prevention).	Dr. Paulik Edit
11 th	19 November	Nutrition in public health. Healthy diet. Malnutrition. Food quality and safety.	Dr. Maróti-Nagy Ágnes
12 th	26 November	Occupational health. Occupational diseases caused by physical, ergonomic and psychosocial exposures.	Dr. Vezér Tünde
13 th	3 December	Health effects of occupational and environmental chemical exposures. Risk assessment and communication. Chemical safety.	Dr. Papp András
14 th	10 December	Structure and operation of health systems. Health and health care in the family (mother, infants, youth, elderly).	Dr. Zsiros Viktória